WHY SPECIAL: This is not like your Grandma's quilting bee. Quilt Artist Andrea Perejda has been creating and showing quilts nationally and internationally over the past 20 years. Her work has won Best of Show, First Place in Art Quilts and many other awards.

Over the past few years, Andrea has found herself moving in new directions, working in a variety of surface design techniques which lend themselves to more personal self-expression. She has been working on a series of pieces which examine the consequences of man's uncontrolled use of fossil fuels and apparent unwillingness to seriously develop alternate energy sources.

Materials and techniques used to create this work are primarily cotton fabrics, deconstructed screen printing, monoprinting, water-soluble pencil work, ink work, machine and hand applique, piecing and quilting. Visit her website: <http://www.andiperejda.com/>
