BIOGRAPHY of Claudia Solomon

Claudia Solomon discovered early in life that she was drawn to many mediums in the creative arts, but paint became her passion. As an adult, her early roots were in decorative painting. She has received many commissions for murals and furniture. In addition, she has taught in Southern California and Cambria. She enjoys giving guidance to others in their artistic endeavors.

Most recently she has been working in oils, watercolor and acrylics, and approaches her art with serious attention to detail, but with joy and delight. She considers it important to continue attending classes and seminars to improve her skills.

She frequently shows her work in various venues, and has won a number of awards.
